Increased office market activity brings new generation appointments at Farebrother

With Midtown take-up at a three-year high and demand for new and refurbished space growing, Farebrother has made a series of changes to its office teams and is celebrating three colleagues' newly-won status as Chartered Surveyors.

New recruits, Tom Cazalet (Surveyor, Leasing Sales & Development), Andrew Brooker (Business Rates) and Rose Fisher (Surveyor, Landlord & Tenant), join Jeff Norris who has been promoted to Partner (Head of Rating) and Patrick Phillips who has been made an Associate Partner (Leasing, Sales & Development Team). Further, Toby Fuhrman (Surveyor, Landlord & Tenant), Alice Blackall (Surveyor, Leasing, Sales & Development Team) and Robert Rooney (Surveyor, Leasing, Sales & Development Team) have each won MRICS qualification at the first attempt.

Farebrother's Managing Partner Alistair Subba Row commented, 'We are delighted that we are able to add to our office teams at this point in the market cycle. Market conditions have been tough for all teams since 2007 but we are now receiving increased demand for all our services and it is important that we continue to ensure that service levels exceed expectations.'

Farebrother

Farebrother is an established, multidisciplinary practice of property advisers and surveyors whose core business is to provide office brokerage, investment, landlord & tenant and management services to occupiers, investors and developers in Central London. A private practice since 1799, three partners have become Lord Mayors of London. The Practice acts for funds, estates, property companies, occupiers and private individuals, including PRUPIM, CBI and City of London.

Midtown

The Midtown office market broadly extends to Euston Road in the North, the Thames in the South, Farringdon Street/Road in the East and Trafalgar Square/Tottenham Court Road in the West. Major occupiers include Goldman Sachs, Deloitte and Warner Bros. The proportion of occupiers from creative sectors; fashion, media, internet and IT has increased in recent years, with brands such as Grey London, McCann Erickson, Agent Provocateur and Ben Sherman relocating to Midtown.
